Students of The Study Place, their teachers and their parents took an unforgetable trip to Washington, D.C. in March.

These students had been studying about Mount Vernon, all the monuments and memorials in Washington D.C., the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum, The Smithsonian Complex, Ford's Theatre, the U.S. Capitol, and The White House during the enrichment time at The Study Place. For the culmination of this unit, Mrs. Hogarth and Mrs. Hunter took the children and their parents on an educational tour of all these places they had studied.

Several noteworthy events were the highlights of this trip. One special event was the students having the honor of participating in The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier's wreath laying ceremony. The Study Place's wreath was placed at the tomb during this ceremony by some of the group's students along with the honor guard. Another special highlight was the tour of the Cannon building, visiting Representative Joe Wilson's office, and having him escort the students and parents to the floor of the House of Representatives so they could actually sit in the Representatives' seats while Rep. Wilson spoke to them. They also had a special guided tour of the U.S. Capitol.

This trip brought the lessons taught by Mrs. Hogarth and Mrs. Hunter to life for these students and created a lifetime of memories for them.
